

Container Ship Length Comparison

In the industry, the size of a container ship is gauged by the capacity of the vessel. This capacity is measured in twenty-foot equivalent units (TEU). However the scale of these ships is hard to comprehend when they are not encountered often.

MSC Oscar was recognized as the largest container ship in the world in January 2015 with a TEU of 19,224 and a length of 1,297 feet.
